Stewards Programme

Stewards at the WCC general Assembly in Busan, South Korea 2013

16 - 28 June, 2016

Trondheim, Norway

What is the WCC Stewards Programme?

The stewards programme brings together a dynamic and diverse group of young people from several countries from 16th – 28th June, 2016, (inclusive of travel dates). At the Central Committee meeting, the stewards programme will host 25 young people from different backgrounds and churches in the European Nordic region. Young people from the Nordic region, and particularly from migrant communities, are encouraged to apply. As a community of young people from different churches, countries and cultures, stewards bring their faith, backgrounds and visions to an ecumenical experience of togetherness and friendship. Being a steward will be a challenge, will foster involvement and participation, and may indeed change your life! The stewards programme will be composed of two phases; an on-site ecumenical formation (16th – 21st June); and work at the Central Committee meeting (22nd – 28th June).

1. What is Ecumenical Formation?

Ecumenical formation is both a distinct programme and priority area of the WCC, as well as a learning process aiming at ecumenical formation. Ecumenical formation means being introduced to and learn more about what ecumenism is, about other churches and other cultures, and what the ecumenical movement is, through taking part in ecumenical programmes, work camps, training, seminars and discussions. Ecumenical formation programmes always involve people from different churches and denominations and are intercultural and oftentimes international. The first phase provides dedicated time for stewards to learn about the ecumenical movement, get to know each other and build community.

2. Being a steward: Work, sweat, prayer and laughter

A steward is also a servant, working in teams. After team building and introductions, the stewards in Trondheim will help serve the Central Committee meeting of the World Council of Churches. The Central Committee is the highest decision making body of the WCC and its members come from all over the world. The work done is often exhausting, intense and under pressure of short deadlines. All stewards work in teams led by staff members of WCC. The main areas of tasks to be carried out are: floor management, documentation, communications, interpretation, worship and other tasks such as general administration, sorting mail, delivering messages, etc. The stewards programme is only the beginning of a long process. It encourages young people to continue the journey of being ecumenical and engaging with one another.

Departures

Financing, recommendation, application and travel information

WCC is overall responsible for board and lodging expenses during the programme, however, churches and Christian Councils in the Nordic countries are expected to subsidize travel, board and lodging of their own stewards. WCC is responsible for selecting candidates for the stewards programme. It is therefore advisable that applicants attach a recommendation letter from their parish, church or Christian Council.

Please complete the relevant section of the application form clearly. Specific requests for assistance will be dealt with on a case by case basis. Passport, visas, travel and health insurance and any other personal related expenses are the responsibility of the selected applicant.

Criteria

Stewards have to be between 18 and 30 years old. English is the working language of the programme and sufficient knowledge of English is required from the applicants. Stewards need to be prepared to endure an intensive programme of activities and long, tiring work days. Working hours are irregular, and often special programmes are planned after work for the stewards. Patience, ability to work with people from other countries and cultures, and a willingness to work together as a team, are essential. The deadline for application is March 1, 2016.
